

Upon finding out that I was a recipient for the “Spread Your Wings” Scholarship from the William O. Lockridge Community Foundation, I became ecstatic. This money will help me further prepare myself for the road to success that will be my college education.

Although I received a lot in terms of scholarship money to attend my dream school, my ineligibility for certain grants left me with a large gap to fill to achieve a zero-debt scenario. By allowing me to have a source to help cover costs such as travel and other personal expenses, I can redirect my focus to covering specific non-school related needs. Some of these costs include providing myself with instruments to use for more my studies in music education, as well as for playing in my college marching band. This scholarship will allow me to be in the best position to let the heavens resound with my beautiful sound as I matriculate through my freshman year of college.

Khalil Sommerville
McKinley Technology High School
Biomedical Engineering