

Receiving the “Spread Your Wings” scholarship means a lot to me. For one it lets me know that there are still loving people out there that wants to help teenagers like myself. There are multiple of my family, friends and other teenagers that was not able to go to college for lots of reasons. Some of those reasons being they had no one to help or someone that believed in them.

This scholarship also gives me the extra reassurance that I won’t have to worry if I’m putting a strain on my family to help me go to college. Receiving this scholarship will help me change the world in the future, even if it’s just a little. Thank you for believing in me.

Armani Johnson

Frank W. Ballou High School

Psychology